MIDNIGHT WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE STARTS OIL PROBE AGAIN

Scheduled Recess Of Ten Days Is Cancelled And Oil Stock Brokers Are Subpoenied Today

But Today's Session of Committee Will Be Behind Closed Doors and More for Preparation.

GOING OVER BOOKS

By KENNETH CLARK
(Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 18.—Information of a startling nature concerning alleged stock market operations of certain high government officials was laid before the Senate oil investigating committee that the ten day recess had been abandoned and a session called for this afternoon to examine several New York stock brokers.

President Coolidge was acquainted tonight with the character of the new development and is understood to have approved the plan of procedure.

A number of subpoenas were issued shortly before midnight. Among those subpoenaed it was learned were Harry F. Sinclair, Elmer E. Smathers, E. Parrish Blackard, Harry B. Benkart, New York stock brokers, and the office clerk and office manager of J. F. Brookhart and Company, New York.

It also developed that members of the committee plan to hold what is described as an informal meeting this afternoon behind closed doors to go over the reports of some of the accountants who have been examining the books and records of stock exchange houses.

Determined to lose no time in calling witnesses was reached at a night session between Senator Lenroot, Republican of Wisconsin, Chairman of the committee; Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, and Senator Pomerene, the latter of whose confirmation Saturday night Pomerene and the White House

Somewhat significantly, Senator Wheeler served notice he would call for action today on his resolution demanding a thorough investigation of the official acts of Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty.

Records were laid before the committee that the Smathers Brokerage Company handled accounts of high Government officers who dealt in oil stocks, this coincides with previous information that federal officers won

During the period that negotiations were being conducted by ex-Secretary of Interior Fall to lease Teapot Dome to the Mammoth Oil company a Sinclair subsidiary, formed to operate the lease.

Bright light also was expected to be shed upon efforts of a million dollar slush fund sent from New York to make up losses of Federal officers in subsequent stock transactions.

Other developments over the week-end came fast and furious. Attorneys for McLean, wealthy Washington and Cincinnati publisher, conferred with members of the investigating committee and were understood to have imparted sensational information. They also assured the committee that McLean was ready to be of all possible assistance. The committee indicated that McLean himself would be asked to take the stand shortly.

It was also learned that all plans are in readiness for the Federal Government to make the first definite move in the courts to recover the rich naval reserve oil lands leased by Fall to Doheny and Sinclair.

The initial step contemplated is the filing of an injunction suit to prevent further extraction of oil from the Reserve, demanded in the Walsh resolution passed by Congress and signed by President Coolidge.

Administration Senators have assured President Coolidge they have enough Republican strength to beat down the antagonism to Roberts.

Opposition was directed to Roberts not solely because certain Senators feel he has insufficient experience with land law, but because of a

Denby Resigns

Washington, Feb. 18. (INS.)—Secretary of the Navy Edwin Denby resigned today because of his connection with the naval oil leases—marking the first break in the Coolidge cabinet as a result of the scandal that has rocked the country.

The retirement of Assistant Secretary Roosevelt is expected to follow, although information was lacking this forenoon with regard to his status.

Denby placed his resignation at the disposal of the President in order to relieve the executive and the administration of further embarrassment incident to his remaining in the cabinet.

The President has accepted the resignation—although no official announcement was made at the White House to this effect. It is understood, however, that Mr. Coolidge's decision to accept the resignation was conveyed to Secretary Deny at 10 o'clock this morning by E. T. Clark, personal secretary to the President.

Formal announcement of Mr. Denby's resignation and the President's acceptance probably will be made at four o'clock this afternoon. For some unaccountalbe reason, the President apparently decided that it should not be announced officially during the day, although the facts leaked out during the forenoon and created a profound sensation throughout the capital.

Warren Probable Successor.

It was suggested that one reason for delaying the announcement was that the President desired to announce at the same time the appointment of a successor.

It was widely reported this morning and accepted in many quarters, that Charles B. Warren, of Detroit, would step into Denby's shoes. Warren has been in frequent consultation with both the President and Denby in the last 24 hours.

The resignation of Denby came almost simultaneously with the inauguration of the government's legal proceedings to recover the oil lands which he signed over to Secretary of the Interior Fall two years ago and which Fall subsequently leased to Sinclair and Doheny interests.

Washington, Feb. 18 (INS.)—Secretary of the Navy Edwin Denby has submitteed his resignation to President Coolidge, it was learned officially at the White House this morning.

The President had not accepted the resignation so far as could be ascertained at 10.15 o'clock this morning and information as to when this might be expected was refused at the White House.

Beyond the mere statement that the resignation of the Secretary of the navy was in the President's hands nothing was forthcoming from the White House.

When the resignation was actually placed in the hands of Mr. Coolidge was likewise not revealed. Denby had not visited the White House this morning but it was learned that he had telephonic communication with the White House and also that there had been some exchange between the President and Mr. Denby through the medium of Charles Warren, of Detroit.

Warren has been frequenly in conference with the President and Mr. Denby for the past few days, and it is believed that he carried the resignation of the navy head to the White House.

Efforts to obtain from Secretary Denby himself any deails of his resignation, proved futile at the Navy department at 10:30 this morning. It was said the Secretary had no announcement to make and that anything concerning the matter would have to come from the White House.

Secretary Denby after first refusing to comment in any his resignation, finally announced at 10:45 a. m.

SENATE CONFIRMS ROBERTS AS ONE OF SPECIAL COUNSEL

Washington, Feb. 18 (INS.)—The Senate today confirmed the appointment of Owen J. Roberts, of Phila., as one of the special government counsel to prosecute the naval oil lease cases. The vote came after a short, spirited fight. Only 8 voted against Mr. Roberts.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 18 (INS)—Owen J. Roberts received the news joyfully from International News Service and declared it meant he would be on his way to Washington either this afternoon or early tomorrow to get the prosecution immediately under way."

"I will take some of my staff with me," Mr. Roberts said. "On my arrival in Washington I will immediately get in touch with Senator Greene and with him lay out a plan of action."

DuBois Moose Club Raided; Home Made Beer Was Brewing

DuBois, Pa., Feb. 18.—About 9:30 o'clock on Saturday evening officers invaded the rooms of the Moose club and conducted a raid resulting in the arrest of the steward and the seizure of some liquor.

The raid was conducted by Police Officers Barker and Pierce, Officer Love, Constable Jeffreys and Neeley. The raid, it is stated, was the outcome of complaints that had been made in regard to the place.

When the officers entered the rooms the place was well filled with members, but there was no show of resistance to the search that followed, and the members stated that the search was a very peaceful affair. During the search some whiskey was found but officers declared last evening that no whiskey had been sold in the place or was being sold at the time. A considerable amount of home-made beer was found, and much more that was in process of fermentation. The beer is of the variety made from products that are purchased locally, it is said. Sixteen samples of the beer were taken as well as samples of the whiskey. The steward was held under $1,000 bail for appearance at court, having waived a hearing.

While raids on private stills and private dispensers have been quite frequent, this is the first instance where a club has been raided.

SENATOR GREENE HAS A CHANCE FOR LIFE SAYS DOCTOR

Washington, Feb. 18. (INS.)—Senator Frank L. Greene, Republican of Vermont, who was accidentally shot in the head Friday night by a prohibition agent, is still in a serious condition, but has a fair chance for recovery, it was announced at the emergency hospital at 8:30 a. m. today.

Physicians declined to discuss the Senator's condition in detail until they had made a further examination this morning to determine the extent of recovery from the operation to remove bone splinters from his head.

COL. MILLER OFF FOR WASHINGTON TO MEET MELLON

Washington, Feb. 18 (INS.)—Colonel Thomas Miller, the alien property custodian, returned to Washington today from New York, prepared to "go to the mat" with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon on the question of whether the government was morally able to pay a bonus to the world war veterans.

Miller told International News Service that he would stand squarely behind the charge made in his New York speech that high officials of the Treasury department had "juggled" figures to "mislead" both President Harding and President Coolidge into believing that the government faced a big deficit and could not pay a soldier bonus.

Miller's charge brought a sharp and emphatic denial from Secretary Mellon, and it was reported at the Treasury this morning that he contemplated an appeal to President Coolidge either to compel Miller to retract his charge or to name the treasury officials involved in the alleged juggling of official figures on the government's financial standing.

DOLLAR DAY SET FOR FEBRUARY 29

The Progress is again authorized to announce Friday, February 29th, as DOLLAR DAY in Clearfield. It has always been the custom for all progressive Clearfield merchants to join in this bargain feast twice a year and indications are that no less than fifty business firms will participate this year.

Plan now to be here Friday, February 29th.

GET YOUR WALKS SHOVELED OFF

Mayor Kittleberger and Chief McMullin are busy today warning property owners to get the "beautiful" off the side walks. Since the peanut shell crusade the officers are determined to have the side walks clean. Of course they cannot see everybody to warn them of what will most certainly be their fate so they have asked The Progress to broadcast a warning today that the fellow caught with snow on his walks tomorrow morning will pay a fine.

LOCAL LABORITES ORGANIZE TO PUT OAR IN POLITICS

At a meeting held in the Mechanics hall yesterday called by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen there was formed an organization for the purpose of concerted progressive political action. The following officers were elected temporarily until the permanent officers can be elected: J. A. Barth, chairman, and R. F. Smith, secretary. The purpose of this organization is not to take sides with any political party but to back the best men or women candidates and to throw the full power of the organization toward those particular persons. They expect to enlist all organized labor in this movement to obtain good and progressive candidates to election.

J. A. Fox, general chairman state legislative board of Pennsylvania for B. of L. F. and E., was the principal speaker. He outlined the work to be done and stated that 82 per cent of the voters in our great state were wage earners and how easy it will be for that body of voters to elect any man or woman they may choose for any office in the state.

The meeting was quite well attended by representative of different organizations and unorganized workers were well pleased, considering it was such a stormy day. The bad weather made it impossible for the women voters to come but despite that fact several were present.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 18.—Edward Friel, 26, is dying with a fractured skull and John Quinlan, 26, and Patrick Ryan, 27, all of Ardmore, were dead today as the result of an accident Sunday in which their car crashed into a stone wall at Rosemont, a suburb.

Three men accompanying police, who say they found several bottles of whiskey in the wreckage, were returning from a birthday party.

Two other men in the party were also injured and one, Leonard Moore, 28, owner and driver of the machine, is in a critical condition with internal injuries.

Strangers from several out-of-town places, near and near, and town folks added large numbers and interest to the two congregations, both of which had unusually large number of men present. The morning exposition was from Rom. 2:1 and at night Romans 3:1. Several singing by the chorus brought home ringing messages in song to the people. During the speech made at the time the LaFollette committee was investigating nation-wide gasoline prices, Roberts mentioned the high salaries paid officials of the Standard Oil Company and declared these officers were earning every cent they were receiving. Subsequently Roberts denied any connection whatever with oil interests.

Last week, regarding Roberts' remarks as rather a personal attack upon the committee, rallied Insurgent and a few Democrats to his assistance in the confirmation.

In view of the desire of President Coolidge, however, that the suits go forward at once, it was not believed the confirmation could be blocked.

Practically the same Democrats headed by Senators Dill, of Washington, and Adams, of Colorado, who opposed it previously are hostile to Roberts, agree with LaFollette that the nature of the [illegible] demanded a counsel with a national reputation in trying criminal cases.

PRISONER BEFORE THE COURT SHOOTS JUDGE AND HIMSELF

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 18. (INS.)—District Judge Wm. Morning was shot and killed today by Wallace P. Wallick, one of the parties to a divorce suit being tried this morning before Judge Morning. While the action was proceeding, Wallick suddenly drew a revolver and fired four shots—at his wife, her attorney, and the judge. Judge Morning fell mortally wounded and died a few minutes later in his office. Neither the attorney nor Mrs. Wallick was wounded.

After Morning fell, Wallick immediately shot and killed himself.

The Wallicks have been divorced for some time, but Wallick had been delinquent in meeting his payments of alimony, the sheriff said. Judge Morning had summoned him to appear this morning to answer a charge of contempt of court.

Opponents of Cleanup In Philadelphia Said To Be Stalking Mayor

By GEORGE T. HOOK

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Philadelphia, Feb. 18.—Gen. Smedley D. Butler, whose fight to clean this city of vice and crime admittedly is daily becoming a more difficult one, confessed today that "tremendous outside pressure" is being brought to bear upon the administration.

"Mayor Kendrick is sticking to me through everything and encouraging me," General Butler declared. "The outside pressure on him is becoming tremendous, but he is standing under it. I know he is being threatened every day, but the only effect it has is to make him stronger for the clean-up."

Around city hall a change in the appearance of Mayor Kendrick has been noted. Comment that he has "aged since taking office two months ago" is common. It is no secret that political henchmen have exhorted him, and are exhorting him, to "call off the marine director of public safety."

So far the mayor has given Butler full sway and excellent support, but the gossips are anxiously awaiting a "break" and the general and the mayor, it became known today, are constantly under surveillance by detectives in the employ of opposing factions.

A maroon-colored roadster has become a shadow to the big sedan of the General and his every move and speech is recorded in efforts to "get something on him," it is said. The safety director lent some credence to the developments when he declared:

"There are a lot of people who are ready to adopt any expedient to get something on me. In fact, I know definitly that certain interests think it would be worth $100,000 to get something really good on me, something that would be used to drive me out of my job. But I'm on guard."

The General today declared relentless war on "respectable violators of the liquor laws." The violators in high society, he said, must be caught in the same net as the "[illegible] poachers."

Mrs. Walter C. Groft and daughter Jane and Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Groft of McKeesport have returned home after spending a week with S. G. Groft. William Groft returned with them.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

By S. E. GISER

If you can go to heaven your way,
I know of no good reason why
ought to curse you, or display
Contempt when you are passing by
I have no wish to see you barred
From future everlasting joy,
Although you seem to find it hard,
To use the faith that I employ.

As long as you are not inclined
To have me damned and scourged and burned
I'll try to have an open mind
Where our two creeds may be concerned;
No pious hate nor holy wrath
Shall make me wish to bruise your soul
Or put obstructions in the path
By which you hope to reach your goal.

If kneeling at your mother's knee
You learned a faith that keeps you strong,
No effort shall be made by me
To prove that your belief is wrong;
I shall not question nor deny
The saving grace that fills your thought,
Though you may hold beliefs that I
Have never had, and never sought.

Hold fast the faith that you possess,
If you can find sweet hope therein,
And freedom from the bitterness
That plunges bigots into sin;
If your way leads to heaven, proceed,
Nor any of your hopes resign;
I have no doubt that there, indeed,
Are many other ways than mine.

Commenting on the frequency of automobile accidents and the eyesight of chauffeurs, and in commending of suggestion that a standard of vision be set for motor drivers, The Journal of the American Medical Association says editorially:

"The Journal recently commented on the necessity of defining some mental and physical standard for those who endeavor to drive motor vehicles on the public highways. The increasing mortality in this country from this cause is attracting attention throughout the world. To say that the increase is a logical matter resulting from increasing population or a larger number of motor vehicles, does not extenuate the increasing loss of life, especially since it is clear that proper control would bring about an immediate cessation,

"Recently in a case brought before a British court, it was discovered not only that the driver of a motor vehicle was the fact that the man was examined occurred, but also that he was possessed of but a single eye, the other eye being artificial. An amusing side to the case was the fact that the man who examined him after the accident did not detect the artificial eye but reported that the pupils in each eye were dilated. As the medical press points out: "In the case of the chauffeurs everything is different; alert and perfect vision in both eyes is indispensable and should be made essential before a license is issued to a motor driver from the point of view of the public safety.

"The setting of a standard of vision and examination as to the ability of drivers to meet the standard by competent observers might well be the first step in a plan for controlling accidents so far as they are represented by deficiencies in the drivers of motor cars.

that he would have "a statement for the press at four o'clock." It is believed that formal announcement of the resignation will be made at that time.

Denby himself declined steadfastly to discuss any phase of his retirement, referring all questioners to the White House. He left the Navy department at 11 o'clock and announced he was going home. He looked careworn and tired but said he was going to enjoy his birthday, any way. He is 54 years old today.

The resignation of the Secretary was demanded one week ago today by the Senate by a vote of 47 to 34. This vote was preceded by bitter denunciation of Denby on the floor of the Senate. Democrats and Republican Insurgents joined hands in roundly denouncing the naval head for his turning the naval oil reserves over to Albert B. Fall.

None of the Senators, however, raised any issue against Secretary Denby's personal integrity in the transaction; on the contrary even his detractors agreed that he had not profited personally in any way by the transfer and leasing of the oil lands. They contended, however, that Denby had acted "stupidly" and had "shown himself to be incompetent" to remain at the head of the naval defense of the country.

The Clearaway Goes On With Added Interest

The heavy selling which has marked our clearaway, has, of its own accord, made new offers. These are naturally numbers in the Coats, Suits and Dresses which are left over and these we are determined to clear out at any old price.

The price tickets on the garments show that we are in earnest about clearing these out and that we are not thinking of carrying them over into another season.

Come in the store, shop through the second floor and you'll find much that will interest you from every standpoint.

Nature Uses Milk For The First Food Because It Contains Everything Needed For Growth And Development

Dame Nature has yet to be caught making a mistake. She has performed untold numbers of wonders without a single error. When she provided that milk should be the first food for both animals and humans, she knew that in milk there was every item necessary for the growth and development of the growing animal or the growing child.

Therefore, it behooves every parent to see that, in case the source of supply provided by Dame Nature for the first few months of the child's life fails, a milk should be provided that contains all the richness and all of the necessary elements which are essential for good growth and development.

In the milk we deliver to your home, you get this. There are the fats, the energy producing elements, the vitamines and the minerals which have their places in the needs of the little bodies.

AND YOU SHOULD USE PASTEURIZED MILK FOR ITS SURE PROTECTIONS AGAINST THE DISEASE GERMS THAT OFTENTIMES LURK IN MILK.

BANKERS' SPEED

One of the most interesting features of the Japanese $150,000,000 loan, so far as the ordinary American citizen is concerned, was the dispatch with which the final agreement was reached. A fifteen-minute conference attended by three Japanese financial experts and eight leading American financiers in the library of one of the latter sufficed to conclude the plans.

The additional facts that it is the largest loan of its character ever granted one nation by another and that the United States holds the leading position in Japan's plan, although England, Sweden and Holland also participate, are likewise interesting.

Apparently East and West have met once more, on a friendlier footing than ever before and with more mutual confidence. And although oriental and occidental ways remain very different in many matters, in this financial transaction both sides acted promptly and understandingly.

The public has some awe and a little fear of bankers in these days of huge and powerful banking organizations, but it has to admit that they can get things done when they put their minds to it. If diplomats could act with he same speed and mutual saisfaction, how many problems would be solved!

AMERICAN ACTION IN BERLIN

Nobody knew just what the business situation was in Germany, and nobody seemed able to find out. Prejudice and lack of direct business methods hampered allied statesmen. The Germans themselves, overwhelmed by their own disaster, did not seem to know and could hardly be trusted to make a frank revelation if they did.

Then into Germany came two American business men, Messrs. Dawes and Young, with their international committee of experts appointed by the baffled reparations comraission. Under the driving power of Chairman Dawes, that committee went ahead with such vigor as was never seen before in Berlin. German officials and bankers and economists were so amazed by its energy and efficiency that they stopped hedging and sparring and equivocating, and gave the information desired. The tremendous job was accomplished in two weeks, probably breaking all European records for comparable inquiries.

Now that committee is planning to submit a complete report within a month, stating simply and clearly the economic condition of bankrupt Germany and recommending a specific plan for the reorganization of German finance and industry, so as to put the country on a reparation-paying basis again as quickly as possible.

There is action! If it succeeds, it will add immensely to American prestige abroad, benefit America in a business way by improving business in Europe and encourage supplementary efforts on the part of Americans, officially or unofficially, to solve post-bellum problems of world-wide scope.

WISDOM FROM EDISON

Edison, inventor of the questionnaire among other things, was subjected to one himself on the occasion of his 77th birthday. It is always worth while to see what the most perfectly functioning mind in America thinks about things, even when it is hard to agree with him. Here are his rapid-fire answers to reporters' questions:

"When coal and oil are gone, we shall get power from the sun, wind, tides and vegetable growth."

"We shall probably never communicate with Mars."

"Surgical rejuvenation of men is possible only in a small way."

"The greatest fields for the application of electricity in the future are farm power and transportation."

"The fight between fundamentalists and modernists in the church is the transition from myth to fact."

"The modern young woman is all right, though her actions are foolish."

"The percentage of fine people in the world is gradually increasing."

This last judgment is particularly reassuring. Edison is still an optimist. Thoroughly sane people usually are.

Progress Editorials for Women

"TO TURN TO HER"

By FLORENCE DAVIES

Wha kind of a woman are you "to turn to" in any sort of trouble? Have you ever asked yourself that?

Are you the sort of a person to who you would like to go with good or bad news, or to you live a self-centered, unseeing life in the same world, the same house the same rooms with others, but still outside their lives?

"To turn to her in stress and storm was like going into a sheltered haven where waters are at rest, and smiling up into the face of heaven."

That is what England's new Premier wrote about his wife, who died twelve years ago, and that too, is probably why he now takes up his abode in the premier's residence with his twenty-year-old daughter as the first lady of his household, but with no one to take the place of the woman who was like a sheltered haven.

And Margaret MacDonald, his wife was not the only one to whom England's prime minister owes much in the making of his life. In the old days before he met this woman who made so much possible to him by her wealth and sympathy, it was his mother to whom he went. In the little two room cottage where he lived as a boy and where he worked at his Latin verbs when the other chaps were out skylarking around, his mother was the chief custodian of his thoughts, "and she, as best she could," says a writer in a daily paper who knew of McDonald's early life would smooth the furrows of perplexity and send him light of mind to bed."

Today Ramsay McDonald guides the ship of state of the British Empire. Two women more than any other influences in the world have helped to put him there.

And yet women are still worrying, and wondering about their careers, fighting their way up in the world fussing about equal pay, and no discrimination in trade and a lot of other big little issues which, in all truth, must be attended to, but which are not quite as important as the making of prime ministers.

In all fairness to the woman who is worrying about her own career, it must be said that unfortunately not all men have in them the stuff of which prime ministers are made. There are some villains and some dumb-bells, some good for nothings and some lazy imposters who scarcely merit the best thought and efforts of an earnest woman.

But if a man has anything of nobility about him, if his spirit is fine and strong, and his ambitions inspiring, how fine a thing it must be to have him say "To turn to her in stress and storm was like going into a sheltered haven."

To turn to her--Does any one say that about you? Perhaps no one wants to turn to you, because you always ask and seldom give. Perhaps you wimper in stress and storm, and think only of yourself instead of being like a sheltered haven where the waters are at rest.

And remember, too, that a sheltered haven is a beautiful place in sun light as well as in storm. It is not only in the storm that Ramsay McDonald misses her. If you asked him he would say that since she went even good news is stale and flat because she is not there to share it, and that even being the prime minister of England seems a little beside the mark because she could not watch those last election returns with him and be there when the summons from the king was handed to him.

Value of Mastication.

A good way to form the habit of thorough mastication is to begin each meal with a small quantity of very dry food. In most cases mastication is a help to digestion. The only circumstances under which it is not advisable to prolong the mastication are where there is an excess of the digestive acids in the stomach or where there is pain after eating solid foods.

In the Courts

February term of criminal court opened this morning with Judge A. R. Chase on the bench. The first case called was that against a Hawk Run citizen, who was charged with making his own brand of moonshine.

The testimony showed that a gallon or two and a barrel of mash were found on the premises when the place was raided. The defendant said he had been making a little fof medicine in the home.

The jury retired just before the noon recess.

There will be two weeks of criminal court. This week will be devoted to the disposition of a list of 51 minor criminal cases. The second week will be devoted to the Sorto and Nichols murder cases.

Hollidaysburg Tastes Bitter Defeat From Our High School Basketers

Clearfield Hi's basketeers continued their long line of home victories by winning from the Hollidaysburg High team via the 48-28 route on the local floor Saturday evening in a slow but steady game which was marked by all around point getting of the local team who gathered 19 field goals and 10 free tosses. The visitors' score getters were the forward and center players who gathered their entire score on 11 field counters and 6 foul scores.

The visitors showed from the start they were a first class team and altho not being so real fast, boasted of a good passing attack and display of some real floor work. Their ability to pass helped them get thru the local defense in a Hughes-to-J.-King-to-Soister play. Their shooting was not at its best, many shots going wild.

The C. H. S. five lacked their usual speed but showed good form. Their shooting at long range was not so good, but at short range their shooting was deadly. Passing showed some improvement and featured the playing. The defense, although not at its best was good enough for the occasion and many fallen shots were smothered by it.

In Soister, Hughes and J. King the visitors showed a real trio, scoring and passing being their work.

The entire Red and Black squad displayed good form at all times while several second string men were in the lineup after the first quarter. Nick Brown with eight field scores and two foul counters led the scorers with an 18-point total, while he figured in the all around work strongly. Bob Wilson ran him a close second for points, scoring six field and three foul goals for a 15-point score, while his all-around play was good. Pete Barnic, although not playing much of the game, showed real form and caged two field goals and four foul tosses for an 8-point total. Ken Barnie was also there with the goods and aside from some real general principle work caged two field goals. Foss Mitcheltree was not to be outdone and scored two points on a field goal, while he supported his mates in fine form. Bill Boyce was the remaining scorer, his point being garnered on a foul. Ray Maurer, Tony Rafferty, and Ken Davis were forced to go scoreless yet showed good form.

Neither team was at its best after the first quarter. Both teams made several substitutions. Coach Reed used several different combinations, while the visiting quintet was hampered by the loss of its two guards.

JEFFERSON COUNTY SLAYER TO GET NEW TRIAL

Philadelphia, Feb. 13. (INS.)—Because of technical defects in the records of the trials in the lower court, Justice Alling filed an opinion in the Supreme Court here today setting aside the verdict of first degree murder in the case of Vincenzo Mazarelli, of Florence, near Punxsutawney, Pa., and granting the prisoner a new trial in the criminal court of Jefferson county.

Curwensville's Own Column

Mrs. Dorothy Vaughn, who has spent more than a month in Massachusetts and New York with relatives and friends has returned home.

George McClure, who has a job of cutting and putting in logs at the Caldwell mill on the Hoyt tract, was in town Saturday and reported that the thermometer was dancing around among the eight degree below mark when he left camp that morning. The timber being cut is mostly of the hardwood and hemlock variety.

Last Saturday Mr. Robert McClure an old veteran of the Civil war, residing on Ridge avenue celebrated his 79th birthday and barring some rheumatism is yet a hale and vigorous man for his age. He is a brother of Lieutenant Milton McClure who is now past the 84 year mark and is more spry than some men of not half that age.

James Irvin, residing not a great distance from the Chestnut Ridge school house, received a communication from Oregon a few days back announcing the death of his brother, William Irvin, which occurred on the 4th inst, at Rosedale, a few miles south of Salem. "Billy" Irvin was well and favorably known to Curwensville people having lived on McNaul street some years prior to his migrating with his family to Oregon state. His age was near the 62 mark, was married and is survived by quite a family of sons and daughters and his wife. The cause of his demise was not stated in the report of his death.

The ladies of the Protected Home Circle held a meeting last Friday evening which is worthy of a lengthy notice in this column but space will not permit at this time. It was an entertainment in which all present took part and heartily enjoyed to the fullest extent, and in connection with the regular business routine, several hours was spent in games, music and social conversation.

According to our records there were thirty-nine people buried in Oak Hill cemetery during the year 1923 viz: Males, 16; females 12, all of adult age, and 11 children, making a total of 39. So far this year and less than two months there have been six funerals up the hill, two adult males, three adult females and one child. There possibly may have been several more burials in 1923 of which we have no record, if so will some one please correct this statement for us.

It will be noticed by the publish borough audior's report that it cost this borough during the year 1923 $2,570.50 for street labor; $1,235.25 for police services; printing $141.40; salary of street commissioner $1,200; surveying and maps $790.00; gas, etc for truck, $472.30. Every citizen should read what the auditors have to say in each and every separate account and then they will know exacly where his borough stands financially.

Pay your compliments promptly is an old adage and was fully demonstrated by the number of valentines sent out through the post office. A belated one reached our sanctum Saturday night. A coward always aims to shoot in the dark and behind your back.

Gum Chewing Aids the Teeth

You have the authority of doctors and dentists for this statement. Your own experience will prove it, if you will use WRIGLEY'S after every meal.

The following quotations from a recent work on teeth and health are worth remembering:

"Dentists have found that the exercise of gum chewing brings about a better nutrition of the teeth . . . ."

"The cleansing action of the gum between the teeth helps to keep them free from the particles which lodge in the crevices and cause decay."

The busy man—or woman either—rarely has time to clean the teeth after eating. Yet they should be cleaned, and

WRIGLEY'S

He Was Hard to Fit But We Made Good

When we advertised those few suits on Saturday a chap came in, and when we asked how we could serve him, he said, "I'm hard to fit in a made-up suit, can you fellows do it?"

He wanted one of these advertised suits—those at $12.00 that sold out by noon—but they were regular shapes and this chap was short and heavy set.

Taking careful measurements, one of our salesmen went to the racks and found a suit which met the requirements in every way—fit, style, cloth and, what was a very important item, price. The customer went on his way very highly pleased.

Now, we have this message to you fellows who think you cannot be fitted in a made-up garment. We can fit you right from stock, unless you are deformed in some way which will necessitate some radical departure from even unusual measurements.

In Washington, all gall is divided into two parties.

"Some history's bunk," modifies Ford, who seems to be growing up.

There is one thing about 1924. We haven't, as the weather man would say, had so many days since 1920.

There seems to be too much pull in Washington, even among corkscrews.

The girl question this spring will be "Has he got a car?"

CLEVER NOVELTIES IN "MY CHINA DOLL"

The producers of today's musical fathom every hint of novelty in the big musical shows, they search the brains to almost desperation when suddenly one realizes that it is not only new but novel in its entirety.

In "My China Doll" the novel musical extravaganza which is to be presented at the Driggs Theatre on Wednesday night Feb. 20th.

There are no less than a score of novelties that will prove a revelation to the most blase theatregoer. The opening scene, The Fete of Lanterns in New York's Chinatown, presents many weird customs and manners of the Orientals. The haunting music and unique dances associated with the holiday celebrations will introduce many clever ideas.

In the land of Star Dust Miss O'Donnell ensconsis the character of Cinderella, while Prince Charming and the many characters appear true to life with a keeping of Cinderella's interesting story. In the land of Snow appears Miss Bartine surrounded by a corps of ballet dancers in white and a big jazz finale of music, dance and novelty in which Miss Bronell reigns as Queen of Syncopation. The stage setting will furnish a surprise novelty in itself and the big brass band an innovation in musical comedy.

The land of flowers, where a cyclone of roses is the novel feature finds the little dancer as Rose the Queen of Flowers and the many members of the cast are gowned within keeping of the surroundings, while a perfect of roses sing and dance and play about merrily. Following this comes the stage fair we are allowed to see a novel setting of lace in which a beautiful wedding scene is staged. The lighting produces a most remarkable production of love not only a stupendous but a precedent for others to follow.

When You Catch Cold Rub on Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and it gets in its good work right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. Just apply Musterole with the fingers. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean white ointment made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, coughs, stiff neck, asthma, croup, neuralgia, pains and aches in back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Births

In this column on Saturday there appeared an item of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hess. This has been found to be an error and we gladly make the correction.

A very delightful surprise party was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Henchbarger in honor of their son Orin's birthday. The evening was spent in playing games. Orin received many useful gifts, after which refreshments were served.

Partners were selected by means of valentines. The game of hearts and mittens was played. Being leap year the boys bestowed either a heart or a mitten upon each girl as she proposed to them. Both boys and girls enjoyed it immensely. The winner of the most hearts received a prize of a box of candy and the winner of the most mittens received a beautiful 10-cent diamond ring. Mr. and Mrs. Ross led the grand march.

The Wisent Nears Destruction.

The wisent is threatened with extinction. There are no herds of this European bison left and only about 50 head scattered widely in zoological gardens and preserves. Plans have been proposed in Germany to get some of these animals together and start breeding them. The success of the United States and Canada in bringing back the buffalo, encourages old world zoologists to think that the same methods used with our bison will be effective with theirs.

MIDNIGHT WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE STARTS OIL PROBE AGAIN

Scheduled Recess Of Ten Days Is Cancelled And Oil Stock Brokers Are Subpoenied Today

But Today's Session of Committee Will Be Behind Closed Doors and More for Preparation.

GOING OVER BOOKS

By KENNETH CLARK
(Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 18.—Information of a startling nature concerning alleged stock market operations of certain high government officials was laid before the Senate oil investigating committee that the ten day recess had been abandoned and a session called for this afternoon to examine several New York stock brokers.

President Coolidge was acquainted tonight with the character of the new development and is understood to have approved the plan of procedure.

A number of subpoenas were issued shortly before midnight. Among those subpoenaed it was learned were Harry F. Sinclair, Elmer E. Smathers, E. Parrish Blackard, Harry B. Benkart, New York stock brokers, and the office clerk and office manager of J. F. Brackett and Company, New York.

It also developed that members of the committee plan to hold what is described as an informal meeting this afternoon behind closed doors to go over the reports of some of the accountants who have been examining the books and records of stock transactions in a number of brokerage houses.

Determined to lose no time in calling witnesses was reached at a night session between Senator Lenroot, Republican of Wisconsin, Chairman of the committee; Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, and Senator Atlee Pomerene the counsel whose confirmation Saturday night Pomerene [illegible] the White House.

Senator Wheeler significantly, it is said, served notice he would call for action today on his resolution demanding a thorough investigation of the official acts of Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty [illegible] were laid before the committee that the Smathers Brokerage [illegible] had filed accounts of high Government officers who dealt in oil stocks, this coincides with previous information that federal officers were [illegible] of oil stocks.

During the period that negotiations were being conducted by ex-Secretary of Interior Fall to lease Teapot Dome to the Mammoth Oil company a Sinclair subsidiary, formed to operate the lease.

Bright light also was expected to be shed upon efforts of a million dollar slush fund sent from New York to make up losses of Federal officers in subsequent stock transactions.

Other developments over the week-end came fast and furious. Attorneys for McLean, wealthy Washington and Cincinnati publisher, conferred with members of the investigating committee and were understood to have imparted sensational information. They also assured the committee that McLean was ready to be of all possible assistance. The committee indicated that McLean himself would be asked to take the stand shortly.

It was also learned that all plans are in readiness for the Federal Government to make the first definite move in the courts to recover the rich oil reserve oil lands leased by Fall to Doheny and Sinclair.

The initial step contemplated is the filing of an injunction suit to prevent further extraction of oil from the Reserve, demanded in the Walsh resolution passed by Congress and signed by President Coolidge.

Administration Senators have assured President Coolidge they have enough Republican strength to beat down the antagonism to Roberts.

Opposition was directed to Roberts not solely because certain Senators feel he has insufficient experience with land law, but because of a

Denby Resigns

Washington, Feb. 18. (INS.)—Secretary of the Navy Edwin Denby resigned today because of his connection with the naval oil leases—marking the first break in the Coolidge cabinet as a result of the scandal that has rocked the country.

The retirement of Assistant Secretary Roosevelt is expected to follow, although information was lacking this forenoon with regard to his status.

Denby placed his resignation at the disposal of the President in order to relieve the executive and the administration of further embarrassment incident to his remaining in the cabinet.

The President has accepted the resignation—although no official announcement was made at the White House to this effect. It is understood, however, that Mr. Coolidge's decision to accept the resignation was conveyed to Secretary Deny at 10 o'clock this morning by E. T. Clark, personal secretary to the President.

Formal announcement of Mr. Denby's resignation and the President's acceptance probably will be made at four o'clock this afternoon. For some unaccountalbe reason, the President apparently decided that it should not be announced officially during the day, although the facts leaked out during the forenoon and created a profound sensation throughout the capital.

Warren Probable Successor.

It was suggested that one reason for delaying the announcement was that the President desired to announce at the same time the appointment of a successor.

It was widely reported this morning and accepted in many quarters, that Charles B. Warren, of Detroit, would step into Denby's shoes. Warren has been in frequent consultation with both the President and Denby in the last 24 hours.

The resignation of Denby came almost simultaneously with the inauguration of the government's legal proceedings to recover the oil lands which he signed over to Secretary of the Interior Fall two years ago and which Fall subsequently leased to Sinclair and Doheny interests.

Washington, Feb. 18 (INS.)—Secretary of the Navy Edwin Denby has submitteed his resignation to President Coolidge, it was learned officially at the White House this morning.

The President had not accepted the resignation so far as could be ascertained at 10.15 o'clock this morning and information as to when this might be expected was refused at the White House.

Beyond the mere statement that the resignation of the Secretary of the navy was in the President's hands nothing was forthcoming from the White House.

When the resignation was actually placed in the hands of Mr. Coolidge was likewise not revealed. Denby had not visited the White House this morning but it was learned that he had telephonic communication with the White House and also that there had been some exchange between the President and Mr. Denby through the medium of Charles Warren, of Detroit.

Warren has been frequenly in conference with the President and Mr. Denby for the past few days, and it is believed that he carried the resignation of the navy head to the White House.

Efforts to obtain from Secretary Denby himself any deails of his resignation, proved futile at the Navy department at 10:30 this morning. It was said the Secretary had no announcement to make and that anything concerning the matter would have to come from the White House.

Secretary Denby after first refusing to comment in any his resignation, finally announced at 10:45 a. m.

SENATE CONFIRMS ROBERTS AS ONE OF SPECIAL COUNSEL

Washington, Feb. 18 (INS.)—The Senate today confirmed the appointment of Owen J. Roberts, of Phila., as one of the special government counsel to prosecute the naval oil lease cases. The vote came after a short, spirited fight. Only 8 voted against Mr. Roberts.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 18 (INS)—Owen J. Roberts received the news joyfully from International News Service and declared it mean a "need be on his way to Washington either this afternoon or early tomorrow to get the prosecution immediately under way."

"I will take some of my staff with men," Mr. Roberts said. "On my arrival in Washington I will immediately get in touch with Senator Greene and with him lay out a plan of action."

DuBois Moose Club Raided; Home Made Beer Was Brewing

DuBois, Pa., Feb. 18.—About 9:30 o'clock on Saturday evening officers invaded the rooms of the Moose club and conducted a raid resulting in the arrest of the steward and the seizure of some liquor.

The raid was conducted by Police Officers Barker and Pierce, Officer Love, Constable Jeffreys and Neeley. The raid, it is stated, was the outcome of complaints that had been made in regard to the place.

When the officers entered the rooms the place was well filled with members, but there was no show of resistance to the search that followed, and the members stated that the search was a very peaceful affair. During the search some whiskey was found but officers declared last evening that no whiskey had been sold in the place or was being sold at the time. A considerable amount of home-made beer was found, and much more that was in process of fermentation. The beer is of the variety made from products that are purchased locally, it is said. Sixteen samples of the beer were taken as well as samples of the whiskey. The steward was held under $1,000 bail for appearance at court, having waived a hearing.

While raids on private stills and private dispensers have been quite frequent, this is the first instance where a club has been raided.

SENATOR GREENE HAS A CHANCE FOR LIFE SAYS DOCTOR

Washington, Feb. 18. (INS.)—Senator Frank L. Greene, Republican of Vermont, who was accidentally shot in the head Friday night by a prohibition agent, is still in a serious condition, but has a fair chance for recovery, it was announced at the emergency hospital at 8:30 a. m. today.

Physicians declined to discuss the Senator's condition in detail until they had made a further examination this morning to determine the extent of recovery from the operation to remove bone splinters from his head.

COL. MILLER OFF FOR WASHINGTON TO MEET MELLON

Washington, Feb. 18 (INS.)—Colonel Thomas Miller, the alien property custodian, returned to Washington today from New York, prepared to "go to the mat" with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon on the question of whether the government was morally able to pay a bonus to the world war veterans.

Miller told International News Service that he would stand squarely behind the charge made in his New York speech that high officials of the Treasury department had "juggled" figures to "mislead" both President Harding and President Coolidge into believing that the government faced a big deficit and could not pay a soldier bonus.

Miller's charge brought a sharp and emphatic denial from Secretary Mellon, and it was reported at the Treasury this morning that he contemplated an appeal to President Coolidge either to compel Miller to retract his charge or to name the treasury officials involved in the alleged juggling of official figures on the government's financial standing.

LOCAL LABORITES ORGANIZE TO PUT OAR IN POLITICS

At a meeting held in the Mechanics hall yesterday called by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen there was formed an organization for the purpose of concerted progressive political action. The following officers were elected temporarily until the permanent officers can be elected: J. A. Barth, chairman, and R. F. Smith, secretary. The purpose of this organization is not to take sides with any political party but to back the best men or women candidates and to throw the full power of the organization toward those particular persons. They expect to enlist all organized labor in this movement to obtain good and progressive candidates to election.

J. A. Fox, general chairman state legislative board of Pennsylvania for B. of L. F. and E., was the principal speaker. He outlined the work to be done and stated that 82 per cent of the voters in our great state were wage earners and how easy it will be for that body of voters to elect any man or woman they may choose for any office in the state.

The meeting was quite well attended by representative of different organizations and unorganized workers were well pleased, considering it was such a stormy day. The bad weather made it impossible for the women voters to come but despite that fact several were present.

MEN WATCH OUT!

COLLEGE GIRLS ARE GROWING FATTER, TALLER AND MUCH STRONGER EACH YEAR

By NEA Service.

Wellesley, Mass., Feb. 18.—The average college girl is growing taller, fatter and stronger each year in school.

But she is losing some of her lung capacity.

Least-wise, that is what statistics, just tabulated by the Wellesley College Department of Hygiene show.

The girl now:

Is 5 feet 4 1-5 inches tall.

Weighs 121.66 pounds.

Has a lung capacity of 2.98 liters (about 4-5 of a gallon).

Has a total muscle strength of 273 kilograms (about 600 pounds).

Girls, how do YOU compare with these figures?

A year ago the average girl was only 5 feet 3 inches tall, weighed between 117 and 121 pounds, had a strength of 240 kilograms, but a lung capacity of about 3.27 liters.

This loss in lung capacity says Miss Mabel Cummings, head of the hygiene department was due to the fact that the latst physical test came at the same time as the final exams.

The girls probably were blowing off most of th ir wind at their finals.

There are more short girls than tall ones—187 to 182 in the 1926 class, the group on which these statistics are based.

The [illegible] ranges 5 feet 11½ inches, while the nortest is only 4 feet 10 inches.

The heaviest girl weighed 215 pounds when she came into college; but she reduced it to 194 pounds at the end of her first year. The highest weighed only 91 pounds on entering, but raised it to 98 pounds during the year. The average gain over the whole class was 2.31 pounds.

THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT AT WELLESLEY COLLEGE

The difference in strength is of over 458 kilograms more than 1000 pounds—a wider range than that of weight. The [illegible] strength of strongest girl in the class registers only 70 kilograms, or 399 pounds.

Kansas Farmers Strong For Pinchot Entering The Presidential Race

Chicago, Feb. 18. (INS.)—Kansas farmers are circulating petitions asking Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania to enter the Presidential race on the Republican ticket according to State Senator H. E. Green, of Hiltne, Kansas, in Chicago, en route home from the National Farm Congress in Washington.

Senator Green said farmers in his home state approved Pinchot as an executive and had confidence that his administration of the Farm Loan bank law and others already enacted would relieve the present agricultural distress.

During the speech made at the time the LaFollette committee was investigating nation-wide gasoline prices, Roberts mentioned the high salaries paid officials of the Standard Oil Company and declared these officers were earning every cent they were receiving. Subsequently Roberts denied any connection whatever with oil interests.

Last week, regarding Roberts' remarks as rather a personal attack upon the committee, rallied Insurgent and a few Democrats to his assistance in the confirmation.

In view of the desire of President Coolidge, however, that the suits go forward at once, it was not believed the confirmation could be blocked.

Practically the same Democrats headed by Senators Dill, of Washington, and Adams, of Colorado, who opposed it previously, hostile to Roberts, agree with LaFollette that the nature of the oil suits demanded a counsel with a national reputation in trying criminal cases.

PRISONER BEFORE THE COURT SHOOTS JUDGE AND HIMSELF

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 18. (INS.)—District Judge Wm. Morning was shot and killed today by Wallace P. Wallick, one of the parties to a divorce suit being tried this morning before Judge Morning. While the action was proceeding, Wallick suddenly drew a revolver and fired four shots—at his wife, her attorney, and the judge. Judge Morning fell mortally wounded and died a few minutes later in his office. Neither the attorney nor Mrs. Wallick was wounded.

After Morning fell, Wallick immediately shot and killed himself.

The Wallicks have been divorced for some time, but Wallick had been delinquent in meeting his payments of alimony, the sheriff said. Judge Morning had summoned him to appear this morning to answer a charge of contempt of court.

Opponents of Cleanup In Philadelphia Said To Be Stalking Mayor

By GEORGE T. HOOK

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Philadelphia, Feb. 18.—Gen. Smedley D. Butler, whose fight to clean this city of vice and crime admittedly is daily becoming a more difficult one, confessed today that "tremendous outside pressure" is being brought to bear upon the administration.

"Mayor Kendrick is sticking to me through everything and encouraging me," General Butler declared. "The outside pressure on him is becoming tremendous, but he is standing under it. I know he is being threatened every day, but the only effect it has is to make him stronger for the clean-up."

Around city hall a change in the appearance of Mayor Kendrick has been noted. Comment that he has "aged since taking office two months ago" is common. It is no secret that political henchmen have exhorted him, and are exhorting him, to "call off the marine director of public safety."

So far the mayor has given Butler full sway and excellent support, but the gossips are anxiously awaiting a "break" and the general and the mayor, it became known today, are constantly under surveillance by detectives in the employ of opposing factions.

A maroon-colored roadster has become a shadow to the big sedan of the General and his every move and speech is recorded in efforts to "get something on him," it is said. The safety director lent some credence to the developments when he declared:

"There are a lot of people who are ready to adopt any expedient to get something on me. In fact, I know definitly that certain interests think it would be worth $100,000 to get something really good on me, something that would be used to drive me out of my job. But I'm on guard."

The General today declared relentless war on "respectable violators of the liquor laws." The violators in high society, he said, must be caught in the same net as the "[illegible] poachers."

Mrs. Walter C. Groft and daughter Jane and Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Groft of McKeesport have returned home after spending a week with S. G. Groft. William Groft returned with them.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

By S. E. GISER

If you can go to heaven your way,
I know of no good reason why
ought to curse you, or display
Contempt when you are passing by
I have no wish to see you barred
From future everlasting joy,
Although you seem to find it hard,
To use the faith that I employ.

As long as you are not inclined
To have me damned and scourged and burned
I'll try to have an open mind
Where our two creeds may be concerned;
No pious hate nor holy wrath
Shall make me wish to bruise your soul
Or put obstructions in the path
By which you hope to reach your goal.

If kneeling at your mother's knee
You learned a faith that keeps you strong,
No effort shall be made by me
To prove that your belief is wrong;
I shall not question nor deny
The saving grace that fills your thought,
Though you may hold beliefs that I
Have never had, and never sought.

Hold fast the faith that you possess,
If you can find sweet hope therein,
And freedom from the bitterness
That plunges bigots into sin;
If your way leads to heaven, proceed,
Nor any of your hopes resign;
I have no doubt that there, indeed,
Are many other ways than mine.

Commenting on the frequency of automobile accidents and the eyesight of chauffeurs, and in commending of suggestion that a standard of vision be set for motor drivers, The Journal of the American Medical Association says editorially:

"The Journal recently commented on the necessity of defining some mental and physical standard for those who endeavor to drive motor vehicles on the public highways. The increasing mortality in this country from this cause is attracting attention throughout the world. To say that the increase is a logical matter resulting from increasing population or a larger number of motor vehicles, does not extenuate the increasing loss of life, especially since it is clear that proper control would bring about an immediate cessation,

"Recently in a case brought before a British court, it was discovered not only that the driver of a motor vehicle was the fact that the man was examined occurred, but also that he was possessed of but a single eye, the other eye being artificial. An amusing side to the case was the fact that the man who examined him after the accident did not detect the artificial eye but reported that the pupils in each eye were dilated. As the medical press points out: "In the case of the chauffeurs everything is different; alert and perfect vision in both eyes is indispensable and should be made essential before a license is issued to a motor driver from the point of view of the public safety.

"The setting of a standard of vision and examination as to the ability of drivers to meet the standard by competent observers might well be the first step in a plan for controlling accidents so far as they are represented by deficiencies in the drivers of motor cars.

HAD HEARD DIFFERENTLY

Mules, of all colors indigenous to such animals, were grazing about in the field and the town girl was watching them.

"Do your mules kick much?" she innocently asked.

"No, these mules are not the kicky kind, tradition to the contrary notwithstanding," answered the farmer who was educated and not "typical."

"Not even that white one?" said the girl, in astonishment.—Life.

that he would have "a statement for the press at four o'clock." It is believed that formal announcement of the resignation will be made at that time.

Denby himself declined steadfastly to discuss any phase of his retirement, referring all questioners to the White House. He left the Navy department at 11 o'clock and announced he was going home. He looked careworn and tired but said he was going to enjoy his birthday, any way. He is 54 years old today.

The resignation of the Secretary was demanded one week ago today by the Senate by a vote of 47 to 34. This vote was preceded by bitter denunciation of Denby on the floor of the Senate. Democrats and Republican Insurgents joined hands in roundly denouncing the naval head for his turning the naval oil reserves over to Albert B. Fall.

None of the Senators, however, raised any issue against Secretary Denby's personal integrity in the transaction; on the contrary even his detractors agreed that he had not profited personally in any way by the transfer and leasing of the oil lands. They contended, however, that Denby had acted "stupidly" and had "shown himself to be incompetent" to remain at the head of the naval defense of the country.

BANKERS' SPEED

One of the most interesting features of the Japanese $150,000,000 loan, so far as the ordinary American citizen is concerned, was the dispatch with which the final agreement was reached. A fifteen-minute conference attended by three Japanese financial experts and eight leading American financiers in the library of one of the latter sufficed to conclude the plans.

The additional facts that it is the largest loan of its character ever granted one nation by another and that the United States holds the leading position in Japan's plan, although England, Sweden and Holland also participate, are likewise interesting.

Apparently East and West have met once more, on a friendlier footing than ever before and with more mutual confidence. And although oriental and occidental ways remain very different in many matters, in this financial transaction both sides acted promptly and understandingly.

The public has some awe and a little fear of bankers in these days of huge and powerful banking organizations, but it has to admit that they can get things done when they put their minds to it. If diplomats could act with he same speed and mutual saisfaction, how many problems would be solved!

AMERICAN ACTION IN BERLIN

Nobody knew just what the business situation was in Germany, and nobody seemed able to find out. Prejudice and lack of direct business methods hampered allied statesmen. The Germans themselves, overwhelmed by their own disaster, did not seem to know and could hardly be trusted to make a frank revelation if they did.

Then into Germany came two American business men, Messrs. Dawes and Young, with their international committee of experts appointed by the baffled reparations comraission. Under the driving power of Chairman Dawes, that committee went ahead with such vigor as was never seen before in Berlin. German officials and bankers and economists were so amazed by its energy and efficiency that they stopped hedging and sparring and equivocating, and gave the information desired. The tremendous job was accomplished in two weeks, probably breaking all European records for comparable inquiries.

Now that committee is planning to submit a complete report within a month, stating simply and clearly the economic condition of bankrupt Germany and recommending a specific plan for the reorganization of German finance and industry, so as to put the country on a reparation-paying basis again as quickly as possible.

There is action! If it succeeds, it will add immensely to American prestige abroad, benefit America in a business way by improving business in Europe and encourage supplementary efforts on the part of Americans, officially or unofficially, to solve post-bellum problems of world-wide scope.

WISDOM FROM EDISON

Edison, inventor of the questionnaire among other things, was subjected to one himself on the occasion of his 77th birthday. It is always worth while to see what the most perfectly functioning mind in America thinks about things, even when it is hard to agree with him. Here are his rapid-fire answers to reporters' questions:

"When coal and oil are gone, we shall get power from the sun, wind, tides and vegetable growth."

"We shall probably never communicate with Mars."

"Surgical rejuvenation of men is possible only in a small way."

"The greatest fields for the application of electricity in the future are farm power and transportation."

"The fight between fundamentalists and modernists in the church is the transition from myth to fact."

"The modern young woman is all right, though her actions are foolish."

"The percentage of fine people in the world is gradually increasing."

This last judgment is particularly reassuring. Edison is still an optimist. Thoroughly sane people usually are.

Progress Editorials for Women

"TO TURN TO HER"

By FLORENCE DAVIES

Wha kind of a woman are you "to turn to" in any sort of trouble? Have you ever asked yourself that?

Are you the sort of a person to who you would like to go with good or bad news, or to you live a self-centered, unseeing life in the same world, the same house the same rooms with others, but still outside their lives?

"To turn to her in stress and storm was like going into a sheltered haven where waters are at rest, and smiling up into the face of heaven."

That is what England's new Premier wrote about his wife, who died twelve years ago, and that too, is probably why he now takes up his abode in the premier's residence with his twenty-year-old daughter as the first lady of his household, but with no one to take the place of the woman who was like a sheltered haven.

And Margaret MacDonald, his wife was not the only one to whom England's prime minister owes much in the making of his life. In the old days before he met this woman who made so much possible to him by her wealth and sympathy, it was his mother to whom he went. In the little two room cottage where he lived as a boy and where he worked at his Latin verbs when the other chaps were out skylarking around, his mother was the chief custodian of his thoughts, "and she, as best she could," says a writer in a daily paper who knew of McDonald's early life would smooth the furrows of perplexity and send him light of mind to bed."

Today Ramsay McDonald guides the ship of state of the British Empire. Two women more than any other influences in the world have helped to put him there.

And yet women are still worrying, and wondering about their careers, fighting their way up in the world fussing about equal pay, and no discrimination in trade and a lot of other big little issues which, in all truth, must be attended to, but which are not quite as important as the making of prime ministers.

In all fairness to the woman who is worrying about her own career, it must be said that unfortunately not all men have in them the stuff of which prime ministers are made. There are some villains and some dumb-bells, some good for nothings and some lazy imposters who scarcely merit the best thought and efforts of an earnest woman.

But if a man has anything of nobility about him, if his spirit is fine and strong, and his ambitions inspiring, how fine a thing it must be to have him say "To turn to her in stress and storm was like going into a sheltered haven."

To turn to her--Does any one say that about you? Perhaps no one wants to turn to you, because you always ask and seldom give. Perhaps you wimper in stress and storm, and think only of yourself instead of being like a sheltered haven where the waters are at rest.

And remember, too, that a sheltered haven is a beautiful place in sun light as well as in storm. It is not only in the storm that Ramsay McDonald misses her. If you asked him he would say that since she went even good news is stale and flat because she is not there to share it, and that even being the prime minister of England seems a little beside the mark because she could not watch those last election returns with him and be there when the summons from the king was handed to him.

Value of Mastication.

A good way to form the habit of thorough mastication is to begin each meal with a small quantity of very dry food. In most cases mastication is a help to digestion. The only circumstances under which it is not advisable to prolong the mastication are where there is an excess of the digestive acids in the stomach or where there is pain after eating solid foods.

In the Courts

February term of criminal court opened this morning with Judge A. R. Chase on the bench. The first case called was that against a Hawk Run citizen, who was charged with making his own brand of moonshine.

The testimony showed that a gallon or two and a barrel of mash were found on the premises when the place was raided. The defendant said he had been making a little fof medicine in the home.

The jury retired just before the noon recess.

There will be two weeks of criminal court. This week will be devoted to the disposition of a list of 51 minor criminal cases. The second week will be devoted to the Sorto and Nichols murder cases.

Hollidaysburg Tastes Bitter Defeat From Our High School Basketers

Clearfield Hi's basketeers continued their long line of home victories by winning from the Hollidaysburg High team via the 48-28 route on the local floor Saturday evening in a slow but steady game which was marked by all around point getting of the local team who gathered 19 field goals and 10 free tosses. The visitors' score getters were the forward and center players who gathered their entire score on 11 field counters and 6 foul scores.

The visitors showed from the start they were a first class team and altho not being so real fast, boasted of a good passing attack and display of some real floor work. Their ability to pass helped them get thru the local defense in a Hughes-to-J.-King-to-Soister play. Their shooting was not at its best, many shots going wild.

The C. H. S. five lacked their usual speed but showed good form. Their shooting at long range was not so good, but at short range their shooting was deadly. Passing showed some improvement and featured the playing. The defense, although not at its best was good enough for the occasion and many fallen shots were smothered by it.

In Soister, Hughes and J. King the visitors showed a real trio, scoring and passing being their work.

The entire Red and Black squad displayed good form at all times while several second string men were in the lineup after the first quarter. Nick Brown with eight field scores and two foul counters led the scorers with an 18-point total, while he figured in the all around work strongly. Bob Wilson ran him a close second for points, scoring six field and three foul goals for a 15-point score, while his all-around play was good. Pete Barnic, although not playing much of the game, showed real form and caged two field goals and four foul tosses for an 8-point total. Ken Barnie was also there with the goods and aside from some real general principle work caged two field goals. Foss Mitcheltree was not to be outdone and scored two points on a field goal, while he supported his mates in fine form. Bill Boyce was the remaining scorer, his point being garnered on a foul. Ray Maurer, Tony Rafferty, and Ken Davis were forced to go scoreless yet showed good form.

Neither team was at its best after the first quarter. Both teams made several substitutions. Coach Reed used several different combinations, while the visiting quintet was hampered by the loss of its two guards.

JEFFERSON COUNTY SLAYER TO GET NEW TRIAL

Philadelphia, Feb. 13. (INS.)—Because of technical defects in the records of the trials in the lower court, Justice Alling filed an opinion in the Supreme Court here today setting aside the verdict of first degree murder in the case of Vincenzo Mazarelli, of Florence, near Punxsutawney, Pa., and granting the prisoner a new trial in the criminal court of Jefferson county.

Curwensville's Own Column

Mrs. Dorothy Vaughn, who has spent more than a month in Massachusetts and New York with relatives and friends has returned home.

George McClure, who has a job of cutting and putting in logs at the Caldwell mill on the Hoyt tract, was in town Saturday and reported that the thermometer was dancing around among the eight degree below mark when he left camp that morning. The timber being cut is mostly of the hardwood and hemlock variety.

Last Saturday Mr. Robert McClure an old veteran of the Civil war, residing on Ridge avenue celebrated his 79th birthday and barring some rheumatism is yet a hale and vigorous man for his age. He is a brother of Lieutenant Milton McClure who is now past the 84 year mark and is more spry than some men of not half that age.

James Irvin, residing not a great distance from the Chestnut Ridge school house, received a communication from Oregon a few days back announcing the death of his brother, William Irvin, which occurred on the 4th inst, at Rosedale, a few miles south of Salem. "Billy" Irvin was well and favorably known to Curwensville people having lived on McNaul street some years prior to his migrating with his family to Oregon state. His age was near the 62 mark, was married and is survived by quite a family of sons and daughters and his wife. The cause of his demise was not stated in the report of his death.

The ladies of the Protected Home Circle held a meeting last Friday evening which is worthy of a lengthy notice in this column but space will not permit at this time. It was an entertainment in which all present took part and heartily enjoyed to the fullest extent, and in connection with the regular business routine, several hours was spent in games, music and social conversation.

According to our records there were thirty-nine people buried in Oak Hill cemetery during the year 1923 viz: Males, 16; females 12, all of adult age, and 11 children, making a total of 39. So far this year and less than two months there have been six funerals up the hill, two adult males, three adult females and one child. There possibly may have been several more burials in 1923 of which we have no record, if so will some one please correct this statement for us.

It will be noticed by the publish borough audior's report that it cost this borough during the year 1923 $2,570.50 for street labor; $1,235.25 for police services; printing $141.40; salary of street commissioner $1,200; surveying and maps $790.00; gas, etc for truck, $472.30. Every citizen should read what the auditors have to say in each and every separate account and then they will know exacly where his borough stands financially.

Pay your compliments promptly is an old adage and was fully demonstrated by the number of valentines sent out through the post office. A belated one reached our sanctum Saturday night. A coward always aims to shoot in the dark and behind your back.

A Rare Amulet.

A jade amulet discovered at the San Juan de Teothuacan pyramids, near Mexico City, had the following engraved Chinese inscription: "The golden fish that passes by the Dragon's gate is converted into a dragon." The Chinese legation readily interpreted the inscription, which is a quotation from a very old Chinese lyric.

Gum Chewing Aids the Teeth

You have the authority of doctors and dentists for this statement. Your own experience will prove it, if you will use WRIGLEY'S after every meal.

The following quotations from a recent work on teeth and health are worth remembering:

"Dentists have found that the exercise of gum chewing brings about a better nutrition of the teeth . . . ."

"The cleansing action of the gum between the teeth helps to keep them free from the particles which lodge in the crevices and cause decay."

The busy man—or woman either—rarely has time to clean the teeth after eating. Yet they should be cleaned, and

after every meal

will do it. Also it will aid digestion and furnish welcome refreshment to mouth and throat.

Sealed in its purity package, bringing all its original goodness and flavor to you.

He Was Hard to Fit But We Made Good

When we advertised those few suits on Saturday a chap came in, and when we asked how we could serve him, he said, "I'm hard to fit in a made-up suit, can you fellows do it?"

He wanted one of these advertised suits—those at $12.00 that sold out by noon—but they were regular shapes and this chap was short and heavy set.

Taking careful measurements, one of our salesmen went to the racks and found a suit which met the requirements in every way—fit, style, cloth and, what was a very important item, price. The customer went on his way very highly pleased.

Now, we have this message to you fellows who think you cannot be fitted in a made-up garment. We can fit you right from stock, unless you are deformed in some way which will necessitate some radical departure from even unusual measurements.

CLEVER NOVELTIES IN "MY CHINA DOLL"

The producer of today is at a loss to fathom what new and novel effects the big musical shows, that scour the brains to almost destruction when suddenly one realizes that it was not only new but novel in its entirety.

In "My China Doll" the novel musical extravaganza which is to be presented at the Driggs Theatre on Wednesday night Feb. 20th.

There are no less than a score of novelties that will prove a revelation to the most blase theatregoer. The opening scene, The Fete of Lanterns in New York's Chinatown, presents many weird customs and manners of the Orientals. The haunting music and unique dances associated with the holiday celebrations will introduce many clever ideas.

In the land of Star Dust Miss O'Donnell ensconsis the character of Cinderella, while Prince Charming and the many characters appear true to life with a keeping of Cinderella's fairy tale theme. In the land of Jazz appears Miss Bartime surrounded by a corps of ballet of drum majorettes and a big jazz finale of music, dance and novelties in which Miss Bronell reigns as Queen of Syncopation. The stage setting will furnish a surprise novelty in itself and the big brass band an innovation in musical comedy.

The land of flowers, where a cyclone of roses is the novel feature finds the little dancer as Rose the Queen of Flowers and the many members of the cast are gowned within keeping of the surroundings, while a perfect of roses sing and dance and play about merrily. Following this comes the stage fair we are allowed to see a novel setting of lace in which a beautiful wedding scene is staged. When You Catch Cold Rub on Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and it gets in its good work right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. Just apply Musterole with the fingers. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean white ointment made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, coughs, colds, stiff neck, asthma, croup, neuralgia, pains and aches in back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, chilblains, frosted feet and colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

The greatest event of the Junior High school is the Eighth Grade party which is held on St. Valentine's Day, in the Junior High building. This year the event was more of a success than usual. There were 132 persons present. The rooms were beautifully decorated with hearts.

Partners were selected by means of valentines. The game of hearts and mittens was played. Being leap year the boys bestowed either a heart or a mitten upon each girl as she proposed to them. Both boys and girls enjoyed it immensely. The winner of the most hearts received a prize of a box of candy and the winner of the most mittens received a beautiful 10-cent diamond ring. Mr. and Mrs. Ross led the grand march.

The Wisent Nears Destruction.

The wisent is threatened with extinction. There are no herds of this European bison left and only about 50 head scattered widely in zoological gardens and preserves. Plans have been proposed in Germany to get some of these animals together and start breeding them. The success of the United States and Canada in bringing back the buffalo, encourages old world zoologists to think that the same methods used with our bison will be effective with theirs.
